INCLUDES: GOOGLE FORMS + EXAMPLE

MADE BY: CITLALI LOPEZ

1. KNOW WHAT YOUR GOAL IS

Typically, when you want to create something interactive with your audience, you should know what you are trying to get out of this interactive piece.

Examples could be:

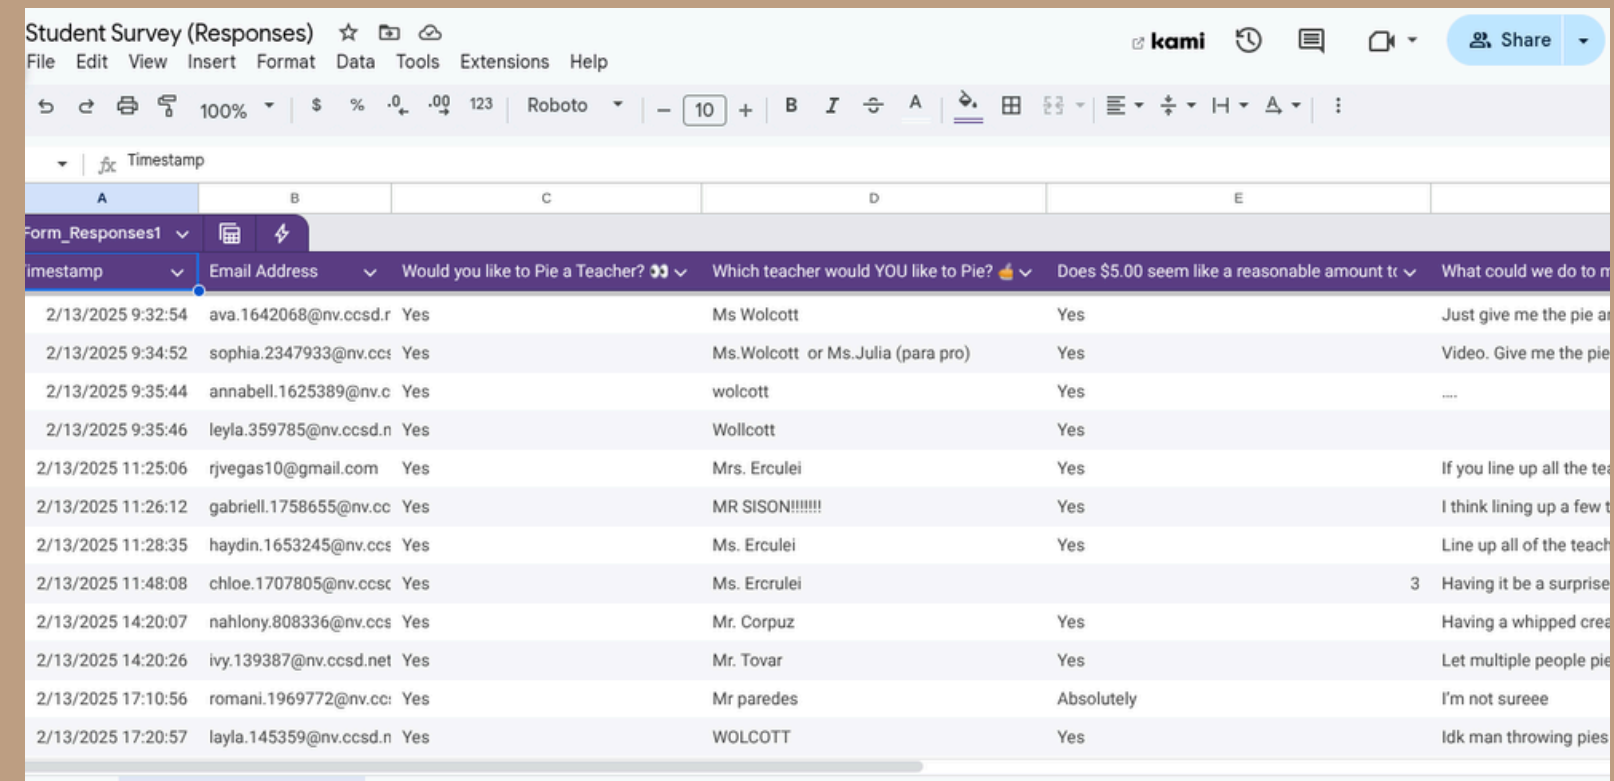

- Reviews
- Opinions
- Feedback
- Votes

2. KNOW WHAT YOU WANT TO USE

There are many ways to make an interactive piece, there's polls just like the one we have on accolades or there's simpler versions such as google forms.

Not only is Google Forms easier and simpler, but it also helps you stay organized, such as spreadsheets.

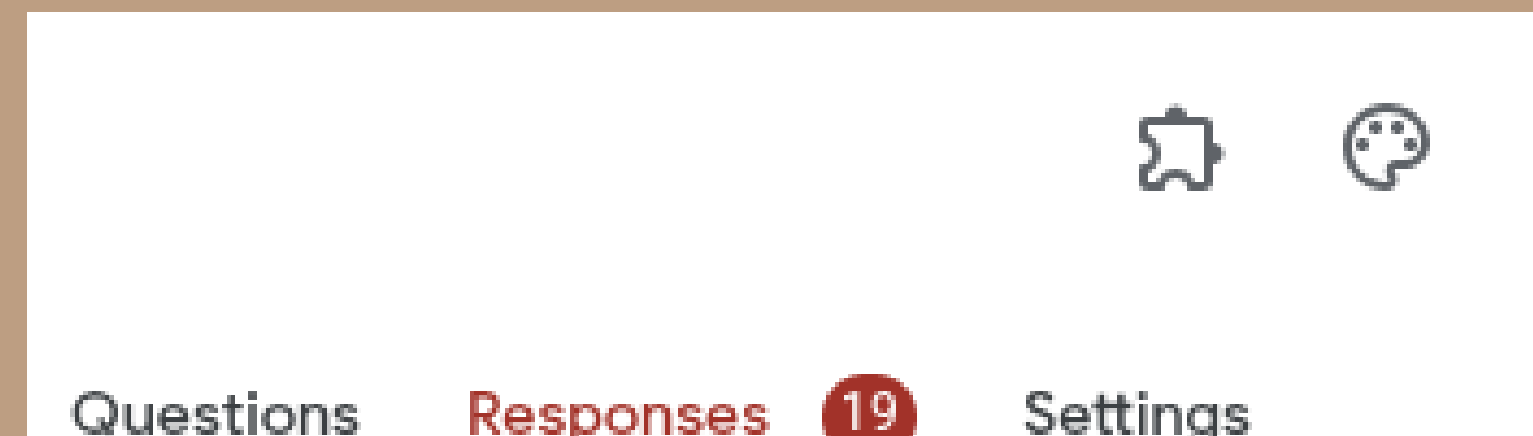

The screenshot shows a Google Forms spreadsheet titled "Student Survey (Responses)". The spreadsheet has columns for Timestamp, Email Address, Would you like to Pie a Teacher?, Which teacher would YOU like to Pie?, Does $5.00 seem like a reasonable amount to pay?, and What could we do to make this better? The data is as follows:

Timestamp	Email Address	Would you like to Pie a Teacher?	Which teacher would YOU like to Pie?	Does $5.00 seem like a reasonable amount to pay?	What could we do to make this better?

3. HAVE FUN!

Get creative with your Google form. Decorate it with different colors. If you have a theme that possibly goes with the article you're connecting it to, the better!

On the right side of your screen, just above settings, there should be a color palette that you can click and choose the color of your liking. Not only can you change the color theme of the form but you can also change the text!
